Mit Sing und Sang (Singing, Singing!)

Daisyfield Music Archive
www.daisyfield.com/music/

Ludolf Waldmann (1840-1919)
Arrangement: H. Wagener
Revision: Tom Potter
English translation: Tom Potter

Heiter (Cheerful)  (M.M. $\frac{\text{ }}{4} = 88$)

Voice

Prelude (Play only before verse 1)

Guitar

Solo

Now you wonder when you see me and ask who is this man? And when my songs are over, it's time to leave again.

And never shut your windows, just watch for me outside!

Performance note: You need one singer to sing the "Solo" verses. That singer must be joined by at least one other singer (possibly the guitarist) for the "Chorus", since the Chorus portion divides into two voice parts.

Transcribed into Finale by Tom Potter.
Guitar part adapted by Tom Potter from the original arrangement by H. Wagener. Lyrics by Ludolf Waldmann.

Donated to public domain by Tom Potter, 2007
Mit Sing und Sang (Singing, Singing!)

Through distant lands I wander, A simple troubadour, And Yes, all your cares and troubles, my songs will drive away, And
But I shall be returning, with light and happy stride, And praise in word and music Great Nature's majesty!

while to you I'm singing, my sadness leaves me too!
then you'll hear my singing and welcome me inside!

With La la la, and happy song, Gladly do I ramble far and wide!

Coda (Play only after verse 3. Or, if you prefer, play the Prelude here.)